was returned.

The proceedings against the Prize Fighters and their adberents were then taken up. Charles Riley, Joseph Murphy, Jucob Somerindyke and Hugh Caldwell, M. D. were first called to the bar. These persons had been out on bail. They are well known City characters in New-York, were well but 'flashily' dressed. and did not seem to think they were in much danger of being sent to the State Prison. Dr. Caldwell is a middleaged gentleman, and looks like an officer in the Army.

The District Attorney informed the Court that it was his intention to move for a nolle pros. in the case of these parties, on the bill found at the September term, and to proceed to trial on the bill found at the present term. A nolle pros. was thereupon entered.

Mr. W. M. Price appeared for Murphy, and Mr. Dutcher

for the Doctor.' Riley and Somerindyke said they were mable to employ Counsel. They all declined to take their trial with Sullivan.

The names of the witnesses were then called over, and Mr. Nelson notified them all that they must not leave the court room, or he should be under the necessity of issuing attachments against them. James Sullivan, John MeCleester and George Kensett were then brought out of the jail and placed at the bar. They all appeared to be in the enjoyment of as good health as those who had been out on bail. McCleester is a young man, with but little of the ruffian in his appearance. Kenselt is an elderly man, and bears about his person that indescribable je ne sais quoi which is always found in the keepers of porter houses and oyster cellars. Sullivan is well known as a professed prize-fighter, and said to be the originator of nearly all the prize-fights and sparring matches which have so disturbed the people in your vicinity of late years. W. M. Price is his Counsel; David Graham appears for McCleester, and Gen. Ward, M. C. for Kensett. The Court having directed the jury to be called, the first man was peremptorily challenged. When the second juror was called, Mr. Price said be challenged for the prisoner Sullivan; and then the question came up whether each prisoner had the right of twenty peremptory challenges. The Attorney General desied that the statute gave them such right. Messrs, Price and Graham baving been heard per contra, Judge Ruggles said that if the right existed, i would require so many jurors that in many cases it would be impossible to proceed with a trial. He had never known such a claim to be set up, nor of any adjudication on the point. If each prisoner desired to exercise his right to the fall extent of twenty challenges, it could only be done by separate trials. Mr. Price excepted to the decision. After considerable time had been wasted in technical objections, the following persons were sworn, to try the indicted, viz : Alexander Ennis of New-Rochell :, John Miller of North Castle, John Bolen of Westchester, Thomas Bockman of Eastchester, Miram B. Silkman of Bedford, Allen Newman of Monnt Pleasant, M. nson Perry of Somers, Winthrop Moag of Newcastle, Allen Brundage of North Castle, George Norton, of Somers, Joseph Halstead of Harrison, Benj. Briggs, innkeeper, of White Plains. Thirteen Jurors were cha lenged peremptorily, and 15 for cause, by the Couns I for the prisoner. One, an innkeeper in Youk ers, was objected to on the part of the People, the prisoners having slept at his house the night before the fight. In the course of the day the Grand Jury came into Court and presented several bills of indictment, and were discharged from any further attendance. P.S. The Grand Jury have found a true bill for manslaughter against Ned Sprague, a noted character from New-York.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.

Before Judge Ruggles, Hon. Cales Tompkins, Hon. Wil-LIAM JAY and Associates.

TRIAL OF SULLIVAN, MCCLEESTER AND KENSETT .- AL 11 o'clock, Mr. NELSON, District Attorney, opened the case to the Jury, calling their attention to the cruel and dis graceful transaction, and citing the opinion of English Judges that all persons proved to be present were equally guilty, although they might not take any part in the fight. Before the testimony was called up, the Court suggested that those Jurors impanneled in the first case should not be present during the trial. Jamer I Golding, examined -I live at Dobl's Ferry and am a Magistrate; was so in September last. On the 13th of that month, I was present at a fight at Greenborough. At that time I was school teacher for the Hastings District.— The first notice I had of the fight was about 9 o'clock in the morning, and, instead of going to my school, I deemed it my duty as a Magistrate to go and try to prevent it. I went to the wharf to make inquiries in order to know where the prize fighters were. The answer was, It is over and they are gene. I proceeded towards the place with William D. Meriam. On our way we met some eight or ten menone of them being a citizen of Dobbs' Ferry whom I knew. He said the fight had not taken place but was to be at 12 o'clock. I then proceeded on a short distance and left the 2 874; Hads $13 25 a 18 75. Aqueduct intending to rally the citizens to prevent the fight. They all declined assisting me to stop it. The place where the light did take place was a small piece of table land lying between the bank of the River and the Croton Aqueduct, and about one mile below the village of Hastings. When I arrived at the place about 11 o'clock, there were between six and eight hundred people there. I saw a ring formed with ropes and posts and an inner ring of about 24 feet square was next formed. I conversed with some of our citizens who were there, hoping they would do something, but they all declined interfering. I then went and spoke to a man who was pointed out to me as Sullivan. He is now in Court. He either said "I can't talk to you," cr "I have not time." I pursued him a few paces and said he must speak to me as I was a Magistrate. He then said "he asked my pardon, he did not know I was a Magistrate." I think I asked him if he was concerned in the fight.-He replied "he had nothing to with it." I then told him I should go to the ring and try to stop it, and asked him if my person would be safe there. I think he replied that he did n't suppose I should be injured. Shortly after that the men made their appearance in the ring. I then tried to make my way to them. I was refused admission by persous standing at the outer ring. They said no person should pass in. I informed them I was a Magistrate and required them to let me pass. They then gave way and I went up and aw two of the prisoners with Lilly and one or two others. At an opposite curner of the ring were several other persons. Sullivan was outside of the ropes. A large number of men were seated on the grass. Some of them seemed to act in the capacity of constables having large sticks. At the other corner stood a man I was told was Thomas McCoy. He had one or two others with him-James Sanford and Henry Shanfroid. I was told that he was a second. As many as eight or ten had the staves in their hands. I first addressed myself to Sullivan, McCleester and his party. I told them I understood they were going to commence a fight, and I commanded them in the name of the People of the State to desist and to disperse. Just then the people outside set up a great shout, as I supposed, to prevent me from being heard. I think as I approached, Sullivan spoke and said, "This is a Magistrate." Some one replied that I had done my duty and had better leave. Some one said they should go on and take the responsibility. I again or sered them to disperse on the peril of the law. After this, James Sandford advised me to leave the ring, saying my life was in danger, and there were cries of "hustle him out," "put him out," &c. I did not think it safe or necessary to stay longer, as I had done what was in my power to to. I then left the ring with Simeon Sandford, and resomed my place on the Aqueduct, which was about 500 feet off. I then thought I would leave the ground, but on reflection I felt it my duty to remain there to witness the proceeding, for the purpose of becoming a public prosecuter. I then saw the fight commence. The combatants stripped to the hips. McCleester, Sallivan, Ford and others were stripped to their shirts. I then saw the fight commence between Lilly and McCoy, which continued between two and three bours. The fighting men marched up from the opposite corners to the centre of the ring. There were either three or four in each corner, besides some on the outside of the ring, who appeared to be assisting. After several passes between the combatants, and they had come to the ground, then the seconds came up, and each party took their man and nursed him, wiping him with water, each fighting man reposing on the knees of his second until it was the time to renew the fight. I did not count the rounds, but understood they fought 120 rounds at balf a minute time. At the word 'time,' the principals got up and walked to the centreof the ring. At last McCo y was taken up, but as he did not come to time, as I was told, the battle was over; Lilly had won. He then jumped up and went to where Mc-Coy was lying, took hold of his hand, shook him by the hand, and immediately left the ring. During the fight I saw nursing Lilly. He threw something on Lilly's face with a sponge. Court -What did you know of the death of McCoy ! Witness-I saw him taken by several persons out of the ring and carried near to the bank of the river, a distance of nearly 200 feet. The people carried him in their arms. I McCleester assist as the second of Lilly. Sullivan was on the outside of the inner ring, and appeared to be assisting in supposed he was dead, and several people said he was. Many of the people who came to see the fight came in steamboats which remained until the fight was over, and then embarked again for New-York. After the body of McCoy had remained where it was placed some ten or fifteen minutes, it was removed on a plank to a small boat. I requested several of our citizens to go on board the Sara toga and prevent the removal of the body, but they drifted the steamboat into the river and did not start the machinery untit the small beat with the body had joined.

In the latter part of October I first saw your advertisement, and purchased a box of Rush's Infalliele Health Pills from Mr. L. Smith, your agent at Ponghkeepsle. From the box I purchased I took one pill, night and morning; and before I had used the whole of the box, I was greatly relieved, and all the symptoms of the disease had entirely disappeared, and I am now in the perfect enj-yment of health: although last year at this time, and for many years previous, I was scarcely able to walk from one mom to another. Grateful for the extraordinary relief We learn that the Bank of Columbus, Ga, is about to be placed on its legs again. William R. The Philadelphia Inquirer says, State Five per Cents, which were 451 on Saturday were sold at 44 to day. The Loan of the United States was also offered at one per cent. below par, in considerable sums. WEDNESDAY, P. M. ASHES-The market is quite unsettled and it is difficult to give quotations. About 100 bbls Pots have sold to-day at different prices, ranging from $5 25 to 5 374, most sellers demanding the latter. Of Pearls we hear of no sales, $5 871 being the asking price, which buyers will not give. Seconds and thirds continue dull and plenty. The bills out to-day are 250 bbls. and the receipts about 100 bbls. COTTON-There is a fair business doing to-day at easy

The sales, which are limited in consequence of buyers holding off for a fall, are generally at $4 433 for Genesee, and $4 374 a 4 432 for Ohio and Michigan. There is no Troy we believe here excepting in store, which is held at $4 50. D Spencer announces to gentlemen that his arrangements are now completed for supplying according to previous intimation, a FINE FUR HAT at a price ($3 25) which shall render it emphatically the cheapest as well as lowest priced Gentlemen's Fur Hat ever on sale in this city. It is prepared in the same style which characterizes our finest article, and like that article is offered at a price at which it cannot be continued without an unusually rapid sale. The undersigned with all confidence affirms it to be for the gentleman and economist the most desirable Fur Hat yet offered. (020tf) SPENCER, 245 Broadway.

I An Elegant Hat for $2 62 1-2 Cents-MR. H. G. DAGGERS—Dear Sir: I have been for the last fifteen years greatly troubled with erysipelas, which, during six months in each year—namely, from October to April—was so very afflictive and troublesome as to debar we entirely from my avocations out of doors. I was so very unwell as to be unable to go a rod from the house, without severe pain. Indeed, the pain was incessant, night and day; it extended from my feet to the pit of my stomsch, and none of the remedies that I took—of which I tried a great many—afforded me any relief. Many doctors and personal friends prescribed for me, but without any effect whatever. PARKER & Co. are continually receiving from their Manufactory fresh supplies of the Elegant Moleskin DRESS HAT, in imitation of the FRENCH, which they are selling at the above astonishing low price. P. & Co. by a system of business peculiar to themselves are enabled to offer the community Hats of fine materials, superior workmanship and of a perfectly fashionable character at prices far below what has ever been attempted by any other house in America engaged in the sale of GENTLEMEN's HATS. Sales Room corner Centre st. and City Hall Place. n2l 1wis*

> Orlando Fish, Fashionable Hatter, 187 Broad way, would inform the gentlemen of New York that his Fall and Winter style of Hats is now ready for their inspection and critical judgement. Claiming the distinction of having been the first to project and abide by a strictly AMERICAN style of Hats, instead of servilely copying the Fashions of Europe, which are often unsuited to our climate and manners, he rejoices to perceive that others have seen fit to follow his lead, and that now the following of European Fashions in Hats is almost entirely abandoned by the leading manufacturers.
> He offers a Winter style of Gentlemen's Nutria Hats at ness, colds, incipient consumption, general debility, piles, $3 50, and warrants them equal in material, finish, fashion and durability to any Hat sold as low as $4 in the city. But he wishes it distinctly understood that his best Hats are not sold at this price, but at $4 50. These he recommends safest medicine that can be given to children, which may be as equal to any hat sold in New-York at $5 or under, and challenges for them a comparison with any other. Geotlemen visiting our city are respectfully invited to call and examine his new stock of Winter hats and judge of their quality. He is confident that, whether the chapter or the best Hat is desired, the inquirer will here be satisfied. Try him. ($20tf) O. FISH, 137 Broadway.
